on the map of places to go ...*

*to enjoy great theatre and the great outdoors,
fine dining and fun shopping,
and much more!*

Since 1977, Penguin Rep Theatre, under the leadership of founding artistic director Joe Brancato and executive director Andrew M. Horn, has grown from a summer theatre to become the lower Hudson Valley's premier not-for-profit professional theatre and one of the region's most influential cultural organizations.

Dubbed “the gutsiest little theatre” by The New York Times, Penguin has produced over 150 shows for more than 400,000 people, bringing celebrated writers, actors, directors and designers to our 108-seat theatre in Stony Point (Rockland County), New York, along with patrons from outside Rockland.

“Guided by the skilled hand of Penguin’s artistic director Joe Brancato, the splendid performers get first-rate support, as always at Penguin, by an excellent design team.” —The New York Times
